Introduction

The idea of establishing a non-profit Open University in the Arab world was initiated by HRH Prince Talal Bin Abdulaziz, President of the Arab Gulf Development Programme (AGFUND). In 1996, HRH Prince Talal officially announced the concept of establishing the Arab Open University as a non-conventional academic institution and as a foundation which contributes to steering development in scientific, social and cultural spheres. Five Arab countries offered to host AOU's headquarters (HQ). In December 2000, a decision was made for HQ and a branch to be located in Kuwait. This initiative developed to a full pledged Arab Open University in 2002 in a strategic partnership with the Open University in the United Kingdom. At that time, five branches were established in Bahrain, Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia in 2002. The seventh branch was established in September 2007 in the Sultanate of Oman. As for the eighth branch, it was established in the Republic of Sudan in September 2013. Lastly, and most recently, the ninth branch was established in Palestine in 2017. AOU intends to establish more branches, mainly in Yemen and in collaboration with the local authorities. In addition to Syria and Mauritania when the time is right.

The Arab Open University-Lebanon was established under the decree 3257 dated June 22, 2000 issued by the Lebanese Ministry of Education and Higher Education. The decree states that AOU is a licensed university and not an institute. All the degrees that the university offers are recognized and certified by the Lebanese Ministry of Education and Higher Education.

Arab Open University in brief

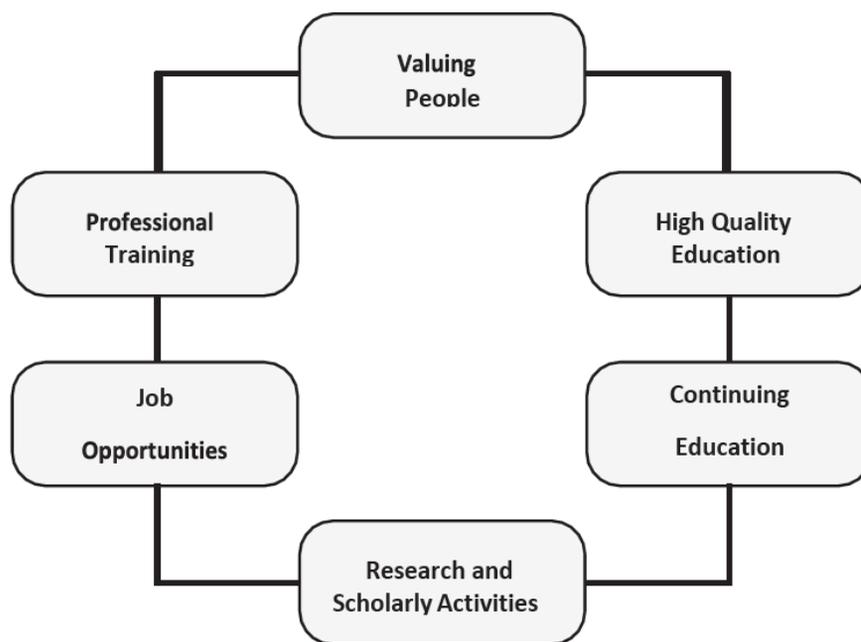

3.1 University Vision

A pioneering Arab Open University dedicated to building the science and knowledge society.

3.2 University Mission

Developing and disseminating knowledge, and building expertise according to international quality standards without temporal or spatial barriers, in order to contribute in preparing the manpower needed for sustainable development, and building the science and knowledge society in Arab countries.

3.3 University Goals

3.3 University Goals

Motivated by the vision, and in order to achieve the mission, the University adopted the following:

- Developing a Center of Excellence for open education and distance learning.
- Providing opportunities of quality higher education to large and diverse student population.
- Providing special opportunities in higher education to disadvantaged groups of potential students, such as women and those residing in remote areas.
- Providing a forum for continuing education across the region, for the benefit of both individuals and local communities.
- Providing opportunities for professional training in accordance with the latest market demands.
- As a contributing partner, participating in promoting research and scholarly activities in areas of special concern to the Arab society.
- Promoting humanitarian values and ethics.

3.4 Partnership with OU, UK

AOU sought institutional accreditation and validation from the Open University Validation Partnerships (OUVP) to demonstrate a commitment to high quality by accepting UK academic, operational and service norms to students. AOU received institutional accreditation and validation from OUVF in the years 2003, 2007, 2017 and 2022, each valid for a period of 5 years. AOU is approved by OU, UK to offer higher education programmes leading to OU, UK validated awards. These validated awards have a parity of esteem similar to awards offered throughout UK higher education institutions. Additionally, a validated award is exactly the same as an OU direct award in terms of employment or postgraduate application.

Under this partnership, OU, UK provides the following to AOU:

- Validated programmes and courses.
- Learning materials (textbooks, audiovisuals, etc.)
- Programme monitoring and external examining.
- Dual awards (BA/BSc/MBA/MSc + internationally recognized UK qualification).
- Exit awards (Diplomas and certificates).

3.5 Student support services

AOU's basic value perceives students as the actual wealth of Arab societies, and therefore, caring for them and investing in them is among its priorities. This basic value is further strengthened by its Equal Opportunities and Respect for Diversity policy wherein AOU makes provision to facilitate the teaching and learning of all individuals irrespective of gender, age, religion, nationality, ethnicity or disabilities and special requirements.

3.6 Services for students with disabilities/special requirements

Objective:

- To serve all students equitably by facilitating in areas a student might be challenged either physically, mentally, emotionally or having any particular type of learning disability.
- To ensure that no student is disadvantaged and feels deprived of any opportunity that may impede their learning.
- To provide the best possible professional services to students with disabilities/special requirements in a non-judgmental environment.

While AOU will provide students with disabilities, all possible assistance on campus, the journey to learning is mutual and therefore the student is expected to:

- Declare disability that requires special attention. It is essential that the student is forthcoming in reporting to the University the exact nature of the challenge the student faces in learning. The AOU disability declaration form must be completed in this regard.
- Be aware of the exact nature of their disability and present it to the Student affairs office at the time of admission or as and when it has been identified. In case, where the student is unable to present the same, the guardian (preferably a family member) may do the same on behalf of the student and duly sign on the declaration form.
- Take equal responsibility for his/her progress, success and failure in academics. The student must communicate regularly with the tutors and academic advisors in case of facing any difficulty in learning.

Student Entitlements:

Students across AOU branches are covered by the Arab Open University Equal Opportunity and Respect for Diversity, and the disability regulations towards inclusive education:

- Equal access to all courses, programmes, services and facilities offered to students at AOU.
- Equal opportunity to participate in student events.
- Access to information in the appropriate format that meet their 'special requirements' and that include announcements, text material, assessments, results etc.
- Access to appeals and complaints systems resulting from any dissatisfaction with grades or other teaching and learning provisions.
- Entitlement to complain if the student has been violated due to disability of any right or privilege otherwise available to other students.

3.7 Integrated Learning System

Open learning refers generally to activities that enhance and broaden learning opportunities beyond formal education systems. These include but are not limited to distance learning, E-Learning and blended learning which is the approach that AOU adopts.

The Open Learning system is a flexible system that offers a number of advantages to both learners and to providers of opportunities for learning.

Blended learning at AOU is a fit for purpose approach wherein student-learning needs are met through a combination of:

- Tutorials: Unlike the conventional learning system wherein students are taught, at AOU tutorials are used to facilitate and assist student learning thus encouraging independent learning skills. Tutorials are led by a tutor who is in charge of the delivery of the course. Tutors are entrusted with the responsibility of encouraging students to understand the University's blended learning systems of education and to develop self-learning skills.
- Office Hours: Office hours provide students with the opportunity to communicate with tutors before or after the tutorial. Students use office hours to seek help related to their course matters.
- Self-Study Packages: The study material provided at AOU enables students' self-studying to a large extent.
- Electronic Learning Resources and Systems: The electronic learning resources such as the Learning Management System (LMS) and e-library form a part of the teaching and learning process at AOU.

3.8 Quality Assurance

To ensure a high quality learning experience for students, the University monitors and evaluates its procedures, practices and student services on a systematic and regular basis.

A) Designing Learning Materials

Designing courses learning materials is the direct responsibility of the Deans of the respective faculties. For newly designed courses, academic teams from inside and outside the University are usually tasked with producing the required materials. Production of learning materials is conducted with certain specifications and implementation methodologies. Assessment is done externally by other universities to ensure that materials are of a high academic standard, comparable to materials used and taught in international institutions.

All programmes are taught in English; Business Studies, IT and Computing Studies, and English Language Studies. Courses under these programmes are produced according to OU, UK's very high standards.

Faculty of Education programmes (taught in Arabic) have also been developed to meet local accreditation requirements.

The University also offers an in-house local programme, Graphics and Multimedia Design Technology.

B) Tutors Management and Monitoring

Since tutors are the interface between the University and its student body, care is taken to ensure that they deliver a high quality experience to students. Upon appointment, tutors are trained in generic teaching skills and in the specifics of the courses they will be tutoring. Each tutor is assigned 25-30 students. A full-time course coordinator in the branch monitors face-to-face sessions. Grading and the quality of feedback given to students on Tutor-Marked Assignments (TMAs) are also monitored. Additionally, students have the chance to evaluate their tutor's performance on a by-semester basis via an especially designed questionnaire. If inadequate performance is detected, the branch Director/ will take appropriate actions.

C) Assessment

The relevant faculty's academic staff sets all assessment material. However, before an assignment or exam is approved for use, external assessors must approve the questions and model answers. In the case of OU, UK validated programmes, the assessors are external examiners.

The University adopts a rigorous policy for student achievement assessment in courses and programmes. The policy aims to create a robust and fair system of evaluation. Each system component intends to serve a learning need within the overall learning process.

The components are as following:

C.1) Tutor-Marked Assignments (TMAs) – Part of Continuous Assessment

Each course requires students to complete a number of TMAs that are spread over its duration. They are marked by the student's course tutor, and they contribute to the total grade of the course. The number of TMAs is dependent on the level and the number of credits of the course. At higher levels of study, some TMAs are set as thematic projects that require students to assemble rational arguments derived from many credible information sources.

TMAs are submitted on the specified dates in the course calendar via the LMS. For each TMA not submitted on its due date, the student shall receive a 0 mark unless he/she presents a valid excuse to the bodies assigned by the University. If the excuse is accepted, the student may be given a grace period of 7 calendar days, i.e. this period includes the immediate weekend following the TMA submission deadline.

C.2) Midterm Assessments (MTAs) – Part of Continuous Assessment

Another important mean of monitoring student progress during a course. MTAs are unified across all branches. The General Course Coordinator (GCC) prepares MTAs and the Dean submits them to the external examiners for final approval.

According to University rules and regulations, a student's grade in Continuous Assessment (TMAs and MTAs) in each course should be entered in the Student Information System

(SIS) without delay, so that the student's grade record is completed at most 1 week before the beginning of final exams.

C.3) Final Exams

These exams are designed under the direct supervision of the Dean of the faculty, and are approved by the external examiners. Final exams also take place simultaneously in all AOU branches.

C.4) Assessment and Examination Policy

The University adopts various methods to assess the student progression rate toward achieving the programme's objectives. The assessment strategy may vary from one course to another, but it usually includes the following:

- 50 marks are allocated for Continuous Assessment, distributed up to 20 for TMAs and up to 30 for MTAs. The other 50 marks are allocated for the final exam, which is held at the end of the semester.
- To pass a course, a student must achieve a 50/100 marks in the course result, i.e. a minimum of 15 marks in continuous assessment and 35 marks in the final exam.
- For programmes validated by OU, UK, the degree award classification is calculated based on the student's average grade in his/her best 32 credit hours of courses in Level 5 and the best 32 credit hours of courses in Level 6, in a 1:2 ratio in accordance with the new framework for higher education qualifications in the UK.
- All students must present identification in order to enter the examination room and attend the final exam.
- Final exam scripts are marked under the supervision of the branch Director in coordination with the concerned Dean. Additionally, students' final exam scripts must be anonymous during the marking process.
- A student unable to attend the final exam due to an acceptable medical report or a force majeure excuse will be given an Incomplete (I) grade and he/she shall be allowed to sit for a make-up final exam in the nearest semester when that course is offered, otherwise he/she shall receive a Fail (F) grade.

4.2 Academic Year

Each academic year consists of two semesters. Each semester consists of sixteen weeks, including the final exam period.

The University offers an optional summer semester for interested students. The duration of study in the summer semester is eight weeks, including the final exam period.

4.3 Study Duration

A. Bachelor's Degree

The minimum number of semesters for a Bachelor degree is six regular semesters and one summer (three academic years).

The maximum number of semesters for a Bachelor degree is twenty-four semesters excluding summers (twelve academic years).

B. Master's Degree

The minimum number of semesters for a Master degree is four regular semesters (two academic years).

The maximum number of semesters for a Master degree is eight regular semesters (four years).

4.5 Academic Load and Registration

- Students should register courses from their study plan and as indicated by the academic advisors.
- Students are not allowed to register in any course unless they passed its prerequisite, or scored in both the continuous assessment and the final exam at least “30 out of 100” of the total score.
- If a student is a prospect graduate, he/she may register the course and its prerequisite simultaneously
- A Student may register any course offered by the university, even it is outside the study plan. This course is not counted among the achieved credit hours for graduation and not included within the semester and cumulative GPA.
- Students with a cumulative average under 2.00 on a scale of 4.00 shall not be permitted to register more than 16 credit hours in a semester.

4.6 Course Equivalency

The current University policy allows a student who has been admitted into an academic programme to apply for credit transfer against Level 3 courses (Level 1 previously). The current University policy does not allow level 5 or level 6 OU-UK courses to be equalized. Courses that have contents corresponding to those offered by AOU may be equated for AOU's local programmes only, if their total value does not exceed 64 credit hours. Admitted students may thereafter submit the required documents in order to gain the credit transfer for courses successfully completed at other recognized higher education institutions.

Each application must include a detailed description of each successfully-completed course alongside an official transcript showing the number of credit hours and marks earned with the detailed courses description. The course should be at least equivalent in its academic content and number of credit hours to the course offered by the University. Applications for credit transfer are carefully scrutinized in accordance with the approved University criteria (refer to BA/BSc degree requirement bylaws posted on the website).

When the course is transferred, the "T" grade appears as a letter grade for the equivalent course at the beginning of the transcript.

No points are counted for the equivalent courses and therefore do not count within the semester or cumulative GPA, but the number of credits is counted within the number of completed credits for the programme.

4.7 Drop and Add

The student may drop and add some courses that are included in the study plan within the drop and add period announced in the university calendar.

The symbol (W) shall be entered in the student academic record upon withdrawal from a course after the drop and add period up to one week prior to the final examination date according to the academic calendar.

4.8 Attendance and tutorials

Lectures' attendance is mandatory at least once a week (or twice for some courses) for each registered course. Tutorials are offered from 8:00am to 9:00pm and can be scheduled into 1 or 2 days per week to accommodate working students.

Office hours, on a one-on-one basis, are optional where students individually meet with their course tutors. These hours aim to help students cope with the topics that they face difficulties with and provide help to students in any other academic issue. Office hours are available till late evening hours, enabling working students to meet with their tutors according to their work schedule.

4.9 Postponement of Study

- Continuing students may apply for postponement of study within a period not exceeding two weeks from the beginning of the semester.
- The period of postponement must not exceed six semesters for the Bachelor's degree and 2 semesters for the Master's degree, whether continuous or interrupted.
- Postponing of study is not counted from the maximum allowed study duration to complete the graduation requirements.

4.10 Drop-out of study

- A student is considered dropout of the semester if he didn't register any course during this semester. However, if he/she subsequently submits a valid excuse before the end of the semester, the suspension period will be considered a postponement instead.

- The dropout semester is counted as part of the maximum study duration allowed unless the student provides a convincing excuse.
- If a student resumes their study after a period of postponement or suspension with an acceptable excuse, they can resume studying for the second part of the course provided that he/she has satisfied the requirements of the first part. Marks obtained in the first part will contribute to the final grade of the course, provided that the postponement period does not exceed 6 consecutive or interrupted semesters OR the suspension period does not exceed 3 consecutive or interrupted semesters.
- A student's enrollment shall be cancelled if he/she fails to register in any course during the first semester following their enrollment at the University and/or not registering in any course for 3 consecutive or interrupted semesters without a valid excuse.

4.11 Transfer

- Tuition fees prescribed in the new branch will be applied to the student after transfer.

After the approval:

The courses are to be counted as follow:

- All courses passed successfully by the student in his original branch and found in the new branch (transferring to) study plan are to be counted.
- Exempted courses, based on the result of the placement test (CR), are to be transferred to the student’s transcript in his new branch.
- The local requirements of equivalency are to be considered and applied in the new branch for every course’s equivalency which occurred in the original branch. The student’s grades will be transferred according to the procedures set in article (7-A) of this bylaw.

Evaluation and Assesments

5.1 Assessment in courses

At AOU assessments are formative and summative and are conducted through the continuous course assessment and course final exam assessment. For every course, there are two types of assessments

5.1.1 Continuous assessment consisting of an MTA & TMA

The Midterm assessment (MTA) is a standardized and centralized test. The MTA is prepared by the General Course Coordinator (GCC) and submitted by the Dean to the external examiner for final approval. The MTA is a test formatted and designed to test the knowledge of students similar to that of the final exam.

The TMA or tutor marked assignments are an important learning and assessment tool in the Open Learning System and are take home assignments. TMAs test and help build students skills in academic writing, critical thinking, and problem solving, analyzing, and researching. TMAs vary in format depending on the nature of the course. TMAs like MTAs are centralized and standardized and are designed at the Deanship level with due approval of the External examiner. TMAs also have an explicit and clear marking guideline that is used to assess students fairly and objectively.

The assignments have a prescheduled date and time, which is announced to students through the formal means of communication used at AOU. TMAs are submitted on the specified dates in the course calendar via the LMS. Any TMA not submitted by the cutoff date will result in a zero mark, unless the student provides evidence of a medical report or occurrence of circumstances beyond his/her control within 3 days of the cutoff date. The reason for non-submission has to be reported to the relevant course coordinator based on a recommendation by the student's course tutor. If the case is approved, the TMA may be submitted within 7 days from the cut-off date.

Assignment Marking, Grading and feedback: Fairness and transparency in marking is essential. Each Course/module Tutor is required to provide detailed written feedback for each assignment showing where marks were awarded and lost. The main purpose of such feedback is to enable the student to make effective use the assignment process in their learning and in preparation for their final exam. The Course Coordinator monitors and reviews the assignment grades and feedback for quality control purposes. Assignments and examination papers are made available to external examiners and to relevant examination committees to review where or as requested, and to ensure the transparency of the assessment process. Results and feedback from assessed work are posted as soon as is practicable on the LMS which student can access by using their student identity numbers.

5.1.2 Final Exam (unified across AOU branches)

These exams are designed under the direct supervision of the Dean of the faculty, and are approved by the external examiners.

5.2 Absenteeism on exams (Extenuating circumstances)

The table below applies for all academic levels

Exam Type	When to apply for an excuse	Procedures on "Approval "	Procedures when "NO excuse" is submitted or "Refusal"
MTA	One week after the exam day	Take the Makeup of MTA during the same semester	A "Zero" mark is assigned
Final	One week after the exam day	An "I" grade is assigned if there is a passing grade in the continuous assessment Take the incomplete exam on the next consecutive exam's period	A Zero" mark is assigned and the course is "failed"

During an MTA or a Final exam, it is possible for a student to be faced with unpredictable circumstances (medical, personal or family matters/issues) that are beyond his/her control. At the Arab Open University (AOU), such circumstances are referred to as extenuating (mitigating). When students miss Midterm Assignments (MTA) or a Final Exams, they will still have the chance to sit for a Makeup MTA or a Makeup Final Exam in case the absence' reason was one but not limited to the following:

- Serious accident.
- Severe illness.
- Sudden onset of a mental health problem.
- A physical attack (due to a natural disaster or political turmoil).
- Severe illness or death of an immediate kin (parent, spouse or child).

Important Notes:

To request a Makeup exam, a student should submit a "Makeup Excuse Form" with its corresponding supporting documents through "Student Service" portal within 7 calendar days of an MTA date or a Final exam date, as stipulated in the Bachelor's Degree Award Examination and Assessment Bylaws at the Arab Open University

The Branch Examination Committee (BEC) will review all the received Makeup requests. In case the excuse was found valid, letter (I) – Incomplete – shall be entered in the student's academic record, provided that he has not failed in the Continuous Assessment. Makeup MTAs will be held in the same semester; Makeup Final Exams will be held with regular final exams of the following semester (note that the summer semester is considered optional). If the BEC rejects the case, the student is awarded a zero mark in the exam.

Students will receive emails about the results of their requests between 5 to 10 working days.

If a student fails to show up to his makeup final exam, the letter (I) shall be replaced with (F) – Fail – in his/her academic record. Such students will not be allowed to delay further their makeup exams (i.e. Makeup requests for Makeup exams are not allowed).

The credits of the incomplete course are not to be counted within the semester GPA and cumulative GPA until its completion.

5.3 Grades and corresponding points

A. Bachelor's Degree

AOU applies the grades' policy based on the fixed scale mentioned below:

Letter Grades	A	B+	B	C+	C	D	F
Range	100 - 90	89 - 82	81 - 74	73 - 66	65 - 58	57 - 50	Below 50

The table below shows the grades and its corresponding weight (points):

Letter Grades	A	B+	B	C+	C	D	F
Points	4	3.5	3	2.5	2	1.5	0

The "D" grade is the minimum passing grade.

You are considered failed in a course, if your case falls in one of the below categories:

Failing status	Failing causes	Corresponding Letter Grade
Fail in the Continuous Assessment (CA)	A grade below 30% of the CA grade	FC

The table below shows the grades and its corresponding weight (points):

Appendix A7

Arab Open University Scheme of Plagiarism Penalties

Version 4
Modified and Updated for the Academic Year 2022-2023

Introduction:

Plagiarism at AOU is considered as serious academic offenses and therefore dealt with stringently. Students and tutors alike are expected to comply with academic standards and rules for students' assessments that stress academic integrity.

Definitions:Plagiarism:

The Online Oxford English Dictionary definition of plagiarism is as follows:

“The practice of taking someone else’s work or ideas and passing them off as one’s own” “Plagiarism is another form of cheating which occurs when a student is working independently on an assignment (e.g. essays, reports, presentations) and presenting other people work as one’s own”.

Examples of Plagiarism include copying from a single or multiple sources using one or more of the following as the basis for the whole or good part of the assignment:

- 1) Published or unpublished books, articles or reports,
- 2) The Internet,
- 3) The media (e.g. TV programmes, radio programmes or newspaper articles)
- 4) An essay from an essay bank,
- 5) A piece of work previously submitted by another student.
- 6) Copying from a text which is about to be submitted for the same assignment

Academic integrity:

Definition: “ Academic integrity is the moral code or ethical policy of academia”.

Academic integrity allows students and staff the freedom to build new ideas, knowledge and creative works while respecting and acknowledging the work of others. Academic integrity embraces the values of accuracy, honesty, fairness, responsibility and respect. The University students are expected to take an active role in their own the information they need to study and to be honest in reporting their ideas and ideas derived from others.

Academic Misconduct:

“Academic misconduct is any action or attempted action that may result in creating an unfair academic advantage for oneself or an unfair academic advantage or disadvantage for any other member or members of the academic community” Academic misconduct includes a wide variety of behaviors such as cheating, plagiarism, altering academic documents or transcripts, gaining access to materials before they are intended to be available, and helping others to gain an unfair academic advantage.”

The current plagiarism scheme of penalties and combating approach has been developed after a process of considerable analysis of the implementation and outcome of the previous policy that was designed and floated for a number of years. The scheme reinforces that curbing plagiarism cannot be restricted to merely detecting but has to lead to measures that help students identify aspects of writing that amount to plagiarism and thus develop their skills in refraining from leaning on plagiarism to communicate their work of writing. It also acknowledges the institutional role in combating plagiarism by having stricter enforcement and compliance measures by the teaching staff. This holistic approach in combating plagiarism coupled with a stretched leverage of benefit of doubt to the students as compared to that of the previous policy. The current policy aims to be able to develop a plagiarism free culture at AOU.

Implementation of plagiarism policy and plagiarism scheme of penalties at AOU rests on the following three principles:

1. Academic Integrity: Both students and staff are expected to observe the highest level of integrity to the academic work undertaken at AOU. At no point of time should students adopt methods wherein they indulge in academic malpractice such as plagiarism and contribute towards misjudgment of their actual learning outcome. Tutors are also expected to maintain highest standards in assessing student work and at all times and have no tolerance to plagiarism.

2. Accountability: Tutors assessing students work are accountable at AOU to ensure that no plagiarized student work is passed. Tutors are required to document any plagiarized work found and provide justified evidence of the same. All official forms for recording plagiarism numbers and implementation has to be maintained and produced when deemed necessary.

3. Academic Judgement: A blanket approach to defining plagiarism for all courses cannot be applicable always. The nature of certain courses e.g; programming courses cannot be viewed for plagiarism with the same parameters as that of other courses and therefore the approach to defining what constitutes as plagiarism will be different. Since manual detection of plagiarism can be a lengthy and complicated process especially when it involves large volume of students 'work, electronic detection using plagiarism software is a feasible option. However, relying on it solely may not be the best option and therefore combination with manual analysis, nuanced academic judgement and clear processes must provide the means to determine if plagiarism has occurred.

The following is the generic plagiarism scheme for all university programmes except for the information technology and computing Programme of the Faculty for Computer Science (FCS).The specific FCS scheme of penalties is shown below.

Offense (1st time)	Penalty	Further Action
	Proposed deduction of marks	Preventive measures	Documentation
Plagiarized/copied: 0 to 30%	Assessment is marked normally, except for the plagiarized section. The tutor should comment on it.	Student is directed to refer to plagiarism tutorial.
Plagiarized/copied: Over 30%	Award 0 mark	Student is directed to refer to plagiarism tutorial and test.	Formal warning in addition to placing the incident in the student's record.
Purchased assignment/contract cheating	Award 0 mark	Student is directed to refer to plagiarism tutorial and test.	Formal warning in addition to placing the incident in the student's record.

Collusion: Similarity level > 50%	No marks will be awarded for the questionable (colluded) section.	Student is directed to refer to plagiarism tutorial and test.	Formal warning in addition to placing the incident in the student's record.
Collusion: Similarity level < 50%	Award 0 mark		Formal warning in addition to placing the incident in the student's record.

Following is the plagiarism penalty scheme for Faculty of Computer Studies (pursuant to the nature of the course)

Faculty of Computing Science - Plagiarism Penalties - All level 2/5 and 3/6 modules follow the same rules.

Similarity ratios and their corresponding penalties are as follows:

- 1) Similarity between [30% - 49%]: deduct 30% of the marks
- 2) Similarity between [50% - 69%]: deduct 50% of the marks
- 3) Similarity between [70% - 89%]: deduct 70% of the marks
- 4) Similarity between [90% - 100%]: Students get zero

- All papers with similarity ratio $\geq 70\%$ should be subject to extra academic judgment from the tutor.
- For papers with similarity $< 30\%$, the tutor has the right to academically judge the percentage of the undiscovered plagiarism (if exist), hence taking the proper action.
- If the assessment contains a part that is most likely to result in similar/identical students' answers, this part should be excluded from the similarity percentage.
- In case of similarity between two students from different branches, both submissions should be investigated for the same penalty.
- It is the Tutor's full responsibility to implement the above rules and to provide rationale on the student –feedback form.

First-Offense

Implementation:

- The primary responsibility of detecting plagiarism in student work would remain with the individual tutor who should always use his specialist knowledge and academic judgment in deciding on what is and what is not plagiarism.
- Tutors are advised to discuss plagiarized assessment with the course coordinator and to properly document all incidences of plagiarism of each section.
- The Branch Course Coordinators and as part of their monitoring roles are expected to regularly check random samples of students' assessments/section.
- Branch Course Coordinators should monitor the process of marking Tutor Marked Assignments (TMAs) and other formative assessments encourage tutors to report plagiarism as some of the new tutors may not be aware of the University policy regarding plagiarism or how to handle such cases.
- Branch Course coordinators should monitor tutors' feedback on TMAs and other forms of assessments more rigorously, and ensure that no instance of plagiarism which can be detected by a tutor is overlooked, and to give appropriate feedback and provide the necessary support.

- The General Course Coordinators play an important role in internal quality are expected to carefully check assessments samples from the different AOU- Branches and provide prompt feedback to the BCCS.

Reporting: All cases of plagiarism will be recorded in the plagiarism record sheet and reported by the tutors to the respective Branch Course Coordinator.

Recording: All cases of plagiarism will be recorded in the student's permanent record (SIS).

Second Offense:

Student get a 0 mark in TMA in addition to reduction of course overall grade to pass mark only.

Third Offense:

Failure in the course.

Repeated Offense:

To be dealt with according to the Bachelor's Degree Award Examination and Assessment Bylaws at the Arab Open University, Article 12, which stipulates:

A) Any student found to be committing any act of cheating or plagiarism shall be referred to The Student Conduct and Disciplinary Procedures Bylaws at the Arab Open University.

- 1) Verbatim copying of printed or Internet material, and submitting them as part of TMAs without proper academic documentation.
- 2) Copying other students' notes or reports.
- 3) Using paid or unpaid material prepared for the student by individuals or firms.
- 4) The use of materials or tools that are prohibited in examinations, or attempting to do so.

General Instructions:

- Evidence of student record of plagiarized work must be carefully stored and protected for a minimum of two semesters from the time of detection.
- Plagiarism trends must be observed amongst students in the categories of, repeated offenders, gender specific, age, course/ programme etc.

Arab Open University TMA Late Submission Policy

Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs & Scientific Research

Introduction

Every Tutor Marked Assignment has a cut-off date. Students are expected to submit assignments on or before the assigned cut-off date (published due date). Students should not leave assignment preparation until the last minute and must plan their workloads to be able to meet the cut-off date.

However, the AOU does recognize that students may not be able to complete and submit the TMA by the due date due to legitimate extenuating circumstances. In the event of extenuating circumstances, a student may request an extension without penalty. Such cases will be dealt with according to Article 4(E) of the AOU Examination & Assessment Bylaws. Any other late submissions will be dealt with according to terms stated below.

Purpose

- Penalties for late submission shall be 10% of the total mark of the TMA for each day of late submission up to six(6) calendar days after the due date.
- TMAs will not be accepted after the sixth day and all late submissions have to be made electronically through the University Learning Management System (LMS).
- Late submitted TMAs will be checked by Plagiarism detection - software.
- Marked TMAs shall not be returned or posted to students before the end of the sixth day.

Example:

If the TMA is marked out of 100, deduction of 10% means that 10 marks will be deducted per day, if the TMA is marked out of 20; deduction of 10% means a deduction of two marks per day.

Brief guide to Students' Appeals and Complaints

FAQs

What are Appeals and Complaints? Is there a difference or are they one at the same?

Appeals and Complaints are your mean of reporting or expressing dissatisfaction regarding aspects of your experience as a student of AOU. Appeals and Complaints are not the same, so you need to be aware of the difference before submitting an appeal or complaint.

What is an appeal?

Appeals refer to your grievance against a decision regarding course progression or course results. You may appeal as per the formal procedures of appeal set by the university.

What is a complaint?

You may complain about any aspect of your learning experience. The following are some examples of subjects of complaints.

1. Poor teaching quality or tutorial services
2. Misleading or withholding of information by tutor or administrative staff
3. Inadequate services and facilities
4. Access to resources or Facilities
5. Misconduct by any University staff – administrative or academic
6. Misconduct by any student within University premises
7. Offensive or racist remarks by staff or students within the University premises.
8. Administrative Decisions.

When can I appeal?

Appeals must be made within seven days of having received your course results decision that you are appealing about.

When can I complain?

The sooner you complain the better. Complaints that are made after a long gap (after one semester) may be difficult to resolve unless backed by strong supportive evidence.

How do I appeal or complain?

For your convenience, the University has set up an online appeals and complaints system that you can access through your LMS account. You need to complete the available form with all details duly filled in. The form then will be forwarded to the concerned authority.

What is the information required from me to appeal and complain?

You will be required to fill up an online form and provide all details about the issue that you are appealing or complaining about. You will also be required to provide your student identification details including your name, and contacts, and names and details of any other entity involved in the matter.

What do the appeals and complaints processes involve?

The appeals and complaints processes vary since they deal with different issues.

Appeals: Once you have appealed against a decision or a course result, your appeal will be sent to the Branch Appeal Committee (BAC). The committee will investigate your appeal carefully; look into any relevant documents such as examination script or other course assessment material. Based on the outcome of the review process, the BAC will take a decision. The decision is either appeal upheld (appeal accepted with recommendation for corrective measures) or appeals rejected (no grounds for appeal). If the appeal is upheld, a copy of the decision will be sent to the Branch Rector and Vice President for Academic Affairs (VPAA) and the Central Examination Committee (CEC) for approval. The decision will be communicated to you through the online appeal system.

Complaints: You may complain any time during the academic year, by completing the University student complaints online form. You must state the grounds for the complaint giving detailed reasons to support your case. The student affairs department will process the complaint and forward it to the concerned department(s) for consideration. The concerned department will examine the complaint and it may consult other members of University staff or departments if it is deemed appropriate in particular cases. The Concerned department may find grounds for complaint and produce a report on the case setting out a decision on the case and the documentations considered. The report will be sent to the Assistant Director for Administration and Finance or Assistant Director for Academic Affairs based on the nature and subject of the complaints for approval. The final decision will be sent to you through the online complaint system.

Are there any other means for submitting an appeal or complaint?

For your best interest, you are encouraged to make your complaint or appeal through the university approved online system. The online system ensures that students' appeals and complaints are properly documented and monitored. However, if you are not able to access the online system due to any technical issues or personnel circumstances, you need to contact the students' affair office and fill the respective form including the date, your signature and relevant details.

How long would the entire process take?

The entire process may take from 2-4 weeks. However, you may expect a reply earlier depending on the nature and gravity of your problem.

Is my physical presence on campus required?

No. All your complaints and appeals may be submitted electronically on the complaints and appeals available System. Unless otherwise required by the respective committee, your physical presence will not be required.

What can I do if I am not satisfied with the decision of the committee? Is there another place where I can appeal?

If you are not satisfied with the decision to reject your appeal/complaint, You have the right to re appeal or re-complain through the Branch/Director to a higher level committee or office within seven calendar days (1 week) of notification of the decision in question.

Can I make a complaint against a tutor or another staff member?

Yes, at no point in time will you be at a disadvantage for having made a complaint. Your dissatisfaction with academic or administrative services is of serious concern to the university and you are encouraged to report any issues and concerns.

Will my information be kept confidential?

Yes, confidentiality will be maintained regarding your appeal or complaint and no information whatsoever will be revealed to anyone other than those handling the case.

Can I withdraw my complaint at any time?

Yes, just as you have the right to appeal and complain, you also have the right to withdraw your appeal or complaint at any time.

What do I do if I am dissatisfied with the AOU's handling of my complaint?

If you are a registered student for an Open University Validated Award Programme and still dissatisfied with the decision of handling your appeal/complaint, you may complain to the Open University-UK.

You will find more information on this process in the Student Guide to studying on a programme validated by The Open University.

Approving Authority:	University Council # 75, March 2022
Policy Review:	Quality Assurance Accreditation, Academic and Institutional Standards Committee (QAAAIS)
Policy Implementation:	AOU Branches
Policy Monitoring and Compliance:	Quality Assurance and Accreditation Units at AOU Branches - Students Affairs Offices - Human Resources Department
Next Review Date:	January 2024

Note: A policy can be reviewed before the designated review date should there be a need to. The Arab Open University was established to provide education based on merit only. It observes the rights and respects the dignity of staff, students, visitors and all others with whom the University has contacts. It makes every effort to create an inclusive and diverse working, learning and social environment, free from unfair discrimination, prejudice and all forms of harassment and bullying.

Policy Statement

As a partner of OU-UK, AOU will adhere to the British Equality Act of April 2010, to be interpreted and applied within the legal framework of each AOU country and any other branch local accreditation requirements. The AOU thus commits itself to eliminate discrimination on the grounds of race and nationality, religion, gender, pregnancy and maternity, disability, age, social or economic class.

In line with the above Act, AOU adopts seven 'protected characteristics' groups on which unfair discrimination, harassment and victimization is prohibited. These groups are described below.

1) Race and Nationality

The terms 'race and nationality' refer to an individual's race, color, nationality and ethnicity.

C) Color includes, for example, being black, colored or white.

D) Nationality includes, for example, being a national or non – national or belonging to a certain 'tribe'. People without citizenship), are included in this group.

AOU prohibits discrimination, harassment or victimization against a student (current, prospective or past), a member of staff (potential, current or past) or visitor to the University because of their race, whether perceived or actual.

2) Religion

Religion refers to:

A) Religion (e.g. Islam, Christianity, Judaism, Hinduism, Zoroastrianism, Buddhism).

B) Denomination of a religion (e.g. Sunni, Shiite, catholic, protestant).

AOU prohibits discrimination, harassment or victimization against a student (current, prospective or past), a member of staff (potential, current or past) or visitor to the University because of their religions, whether perceived or actual.

3) Gender

Gender equality in the context of AOU Equal Opportunity and Respect for Diversity policy refers to:

A) Equality of access to employment and equality of access to academic provision irrespective of gender.

B) Equality of treatment (e.g. pay, promotion) in the work place and in relation to academic provision irrespective of gender.

C) Freedom from harassment and intimidation.

AOU prohibits discrimination, harassment or victimization against a student (current, prospective or past), a member of staff (potential, current or past) or a visitor to the University on the grounds of their gender, whether perceived or actual.

4) Disability

The term 'disabled' refers to a man or a woman who:

A) Has a physical or mental impairment, with or without outward visible signs.

B) The impairment has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on his/her ability to perform normal activities.

In this definition those who have to use a wheelchair as their method of movement (whether temporarily or permanently), and those who suffer from Depression, Dyslexia, Cancer, Multiple Sclerosis, HIV, are included. Protection for some disabilities, like Multiple Sclerosis, HIV and Cancer, starts at diagnosis even if there are no apparent symptoms.

AOU prohibits discrimination, harassment or victimization against a student (current, prospective or past), a woman or a man member of staff (potential, current or past) or a woman or man visitor to the University on the ground of their disability, whether perceived or actual.

5) Age

Age refers to a person belonging to a particular age group, which can include people of the same age and people of a particular range of ages.

AOU prohibits discrimination, harassment or victimization against a student (current, prospective or past), a member of staff (potential, current or past) or visitor to the University because of their age, whether perceived or actual. This means, for example, that AOU will not reject a qualified job applicant because the person belongs to a certain age group, whether perceived or actual.

6) Special Treatment Based on Class

This refers to advantageous treatment of applicants for admission or employment with the University, or advantageous treatment of current members of staff and students, on the ground of kinship, or their social, political or economic background.

AOU prohibits discrimination, harassment or victimization against a student (current, prospective or past), a member of staff (potential, current or past) or visitor to the University because of pregnancy and maternity. This means, for example, that an applicant for admission to an academic programme or an applicant for a job at the University should not be excluded because she is pregnant or has recently given birth. Similarly, for example, chances for training or promotion should not be denied because of pregnancy.

In principle and in practice, the creation of an environment throughout the AOU where equality of opportunities and respect for diversity is fostered is the responsibility of all members of the University, both staff and students.
