

2024-2025 Fall

English Exit Exam

The Aptis Test

For undergraduate students in Business, ITC, GMDT, and English programs

Dear Students,

At AOU, we are committed to providing our students with the highest quality education and an exceptional learning experience. To uphold the University's standards and meet the expectations of employers, we are implementing the Aptis Test as an exit exam for AOU undergraduates. This internationally recognized assessment aligns with global benchmarks, ensuring you are well-prepared for your future endeavors.

Why Aptis?

Administered by the British Council, the Aptis Test is a comprehensive evaluation designed to assess your English proficiency effectively. This adds prestige to your academic journey and provides a globally recognized certification, enhancing your professional credibility with employers worldwide.

Test Details:

- Date: 22nd, 23rd, 24th, January 2025
- Time: Two shifts per day (at 9:00 and at 13:00)
You will receive an email stating the exact date and time during the second week of January.
- Duration: 2.5 - 3 hours
- Location: LRC and Labs
- Fee: Test fee : 45$ Fresh. The amount will be charged to your account.

This is a special price for AOU students - The actual price is 60$

Eligible Students:

- Mandatory : Students graduating this semester (Business, ITC, GMDT, and English programs).
- Mandatory : Students who didn't achieve the needed score in the first attempt.
- Optional : Any student who completed EL112 and EAW3.

Passing the Aptis test (graduation requirement):

- To pass the test, the overall CEFR level should be a minimum B2 (and it is better to reach C level).
- In case the overall CEFR level is A0, A1, A2, or B1, this means that you will need to repeat the test.

For more information:

- The score report: BC_Aptis_Score_Report_2023 \(britishcouncil.org\)
- An orientation session held earlier: Aptis Test – Orientation Session.mp4
- Search the net for some samples!

For any additional concerns, please feel free to reach out to the registrar at registrar@aou.edu.lb
We kindly remind you that the value of this internationally recognized certification extends far beyond its cost, offering access to global opportunities and significantly enhancing your professional credibility.