English Exit Exam

The Aptis Test

Dear MBA and MSc Students,

At AOU, we are committed to continuously enhancing the learning experience and maintaining the highest standards of education. In alignment with our dedication to academic excellence and to meet employer expectations in your field, the Aptis Advanced Test serves as the exit exam for the EPC01 course at the graduate level..

Why Aptis?

Administered by the British Council, the Aptis Advanced Test is a comprehensive evaluation designed to assess your English proficiency effectively. By incorporating this assessment into your academic journey, you elevate the prestige of your educational experience and attain a globally recognized certification. This, in turn, enhances your professional credibility and broadens your opportunities with employers on a global scale..

Eligible students:

- Mandatory : Students who are enrolled in EPC01.
- Mandatory : Students who didn't achieve the needed score in the first attempt.
- Optional : Any student who would like to take the test to upgrade his/her resume.

Passing the Aptis test (graduation requirement):

Noting that C2 is the highest CEFR level, the following will apply:

- Scoring C1 means that the graduate has passed the test.
- Scoring a high B2 means that the graduate has the option to repeat the test (recommended) or not.
- Scoring B1 or low B2 means that the graduate needs to repeat the test.

For more information:

- All information about the test was already revealed and discussed in the EPC01 course.
